Dear students,

Let us remember that one book, one pen, one child, and one teacher can change the world.

With this thought in mind, let us start our new session with full zeal and enthusiasm and also with a resolution to be healthy and disciplined in life.

To ensure good health, you should eat lightly, breathe deeply, live moderately, cultivate cheerfulness and maintain an interest in life.

During the pandemic, as you were taking classes online, you learned many things, but also, at the same time, you missed many things.

No doubt you have become highly techno-savvy, but you should know how to use these techniques in the proper way. Never misuse it.

Now let's talk about discipline, which lacked during the pandemic:

Discipline means living your life with proper rules and regulations.

It includes manners and etiquettes, which will make you a good human being.

Discipline not only helps us to improve our habits and personality, but also helps us to adopt the right principles and become successful in our life.

Sleeping on time and exercising regularly are also a part of discipline and are equally important for a developing child because they calm the brain and make the child ready for the next day.

Games are an important ingredient for a growing child, so go for an outdoor activity in the evening that will keep your mind fresh and healthy.

Above all, talk to your elders and your friends with full respect and regard.

You should all be serious about your studies when you come to school for offline classes. You should return to your books and focus on what you've been taught in class. Maintain a regular learning schedule. Don't leave anything for tomorrow.

Once you sow the seed of these good habits, you can rock the world.

Secretary (MPS International)

Respected Principal

Dear Children,

Greetings, "Winter always turns into spring." This has been proven. What an unprecedented time it has been, and we have faced it courageously. It was made possible by the teachers' and students' unwavering devotion. As students and teachers, the challenge was at its highest when we decided to go online. You have all returned to school after almost two years feeling revitalized, determined, and energized. I am so excited to see you all as we embark on a new journey together. Let's walk down our hallways to a fantastic year of learning new things, cooperating, and having a lot of fun!

"The big secret in life is that there is no big secret. Whatever your goal is, you can get there if you are willing to work, " – Oprah Winfrey. This is the beginning of the new session. Some of you have achieved the desired report card in the previous class, while others did not. I congratulate those who were able to realise their aspirations, but others who were unable to do so should not be discouraged. You can now reaffirm your goal and make a promise to yourself that this year you will challenge yourself, work harder than ever, and achieve your goals. ! You all possess untapped potential and are treasure troves of virtue. The need is to bring forth that potential through hard work. Always remember that nothing can replace hard work. Hope and gratitude are two more virtues to add to your list. Begin each day with new hope and energy and make a pledge to yourself to make the most of each moment. Before retiring to bed, take a moment to reflect on your life and express gratitude for what you have. It is essential to express gratitude to one's parents, instructors, friends, and others. Be compassionate and empathic towards others.

Outstanding people have one thing in common: an absolute sense of mission. Life without a mission is just like a horse without a rein. We have all been planted wherever we are with a mission. We need to identify that mission and work diligently to accomplish it. Make your life itself a mission. Remember to be optimistic throughout, especially in the tasks that you undertake. Never Give Up, Stay Focused, Keep a Positive Attitude... and let your light shine. "

Respected Vice Principal

John F. Kennedy once said, "Every accomplishment starts with a decision to try." Let's begin this academic year with this mindset. I hope all the students are relaxed, recharged, and prepared to begin this school year with positive energy, new hopes, and dedication to academics. Here is a three-step approach for both students and teachers to make this year more productive and beneficial.

Firstly, face your fears. Fear indicates that we are on the right track in life. The right thing to do is to face your fears head-on and not be held back by them. The key is to enjoy what you do. Try to make the most of your school life, as this golden period does not last forever. Lastly, don't be afraid of change. Change is the unchanging law of the universe. Just as caterpillars turn into butterflies, change is a metamorphosis for us to become better versions of ourselves. In times of cutthroat competition, one must remember that their only competition is themselves. Focus on becoming better than you were the day before. Hone your skills, work on yourself, take up a new sport, and become more focused on academics. With this, I hope this new academic year will become a bright chapter in your life.

The School News

ORIENTATION PROGRAM ORGANIZED

An orientation program was organized by the school for the parents of class I students in which Principal Ms. Archana Singh apprised parents about the functioning of the session 2022-23. She also included that full attention is paid to scholastic as well as co-scholastic activities in the school. The main goals of the school are to develop a positive attitude, discipline, and moral values in the students. To make the students self-reliant, the hard work and cooperation of parents is required. On this occasion, the class teachers of class I were introduced. The parents were made familiar with the faculty, examination system, general instructions for school rules, answer sheets, and books. During the program, everyone showed faith in the school rules. Doubts from parents were resolved by the school Principal and primary class coordinator. School Honorary Secretary Mr. Nirmal Dargar, Principal Ms. Archana Singh, and Vice-Principal Ms. Manju Sharma wished the students good luck for the new academic session.

VACCINATION CAMP ORGANIZED

A free vaccination camp was organized for students aged 12 to 14 years to protect them from coronavirus infection in the school. The students enthusiastically got their vaccinations. Dr. Munesh Maheshwari, Rajasthan Hospital, Critical Care Specialist, was the chief guest at the vaccination program. Refreshments were provided to the children before vaccination. Honorary Secretary. Nirmal Dargar, S.M.C. Member Ms. Shashi Vijay Lakhota, Principal Ms. Archana Singh, and Vice-Principal Ms. Manju Sharma encouraged the students. She said that "vaccination and precautions are the only ways to prevent corona." Therefore, everyone should understand the necessity of vaccination. "

HOLI CELEBRATIONS

On this auspicious occasion of HOLI, the MPS International fraternity hosted a Holi gathering in which teachers sang soulful songs such as "Holi khel rahe Nandlal," "Nena neecha karle," and "Aaj Biraj Mai Holi Rey Rasiya," as well as recited poetry filled with explicit humor. Everyone wished each other a Happy Holi by applying Tilak with organic color and celebrating by playing with flowers. The school secretary, Mr. Nirmal Dargar, and the Principal, Ms. Archana Singh, gave a thoughtful message to rinse off hatred along with the colors of Holi.

FAREWELL CEREMONY

A farewell ceremony was organized in the school auditorium. Where the students of class 11th bid farewell to the students of class 12th with immense enthusiasm. On this occasion, the chief guest of the program, Brahmarsi Kirit Bhai, in his statement, told the students five principles of success in life: goal setting, diet-purification, dedication, discipline, and not giving up. Mr. Neeraj Maheshwari, the special guest of the program, congratulated the students for building a golden future by exploring new possibilities in the changing environment. In his remarks, ECMS President, Mr. Pradeep Baheti, inspired the students to achieve their goals through hard work and to become good human beings. School Secretary, Mr. Nirmal Dargar, wished the students success in their future lives. Principal Ms. Archana Singh said that success is always achieved through hard work and that a good student will definitely achieve success under the guidance of the Guru. On this occasion, the students presented many cultural and entertainment programs, and the best-performing students were awarded throughout the year. Jiyan Jethani was decorated as Ms. MPS INTERNATIONAL and Nishkarsh Goyal as Mr. MPS INTERNATIONAL. In the end, the Vice-Principal, Ms. Manju Sharma, expressed gratitude to all the guests for their benign presence.

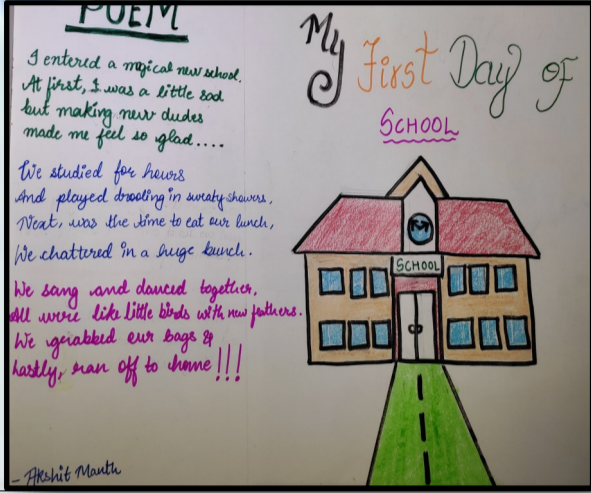

FESTIVALS LIKE MAHAVIR JAYANTI, AMBEDKAR JAYANTI, AND BAISAKHI WERE CELEBRATED.

Dr. Ambedkar Jayanti and the Baisakhi festival were celebrated joyfully on the school grounds. On the occasion of Mahavir Jayanti, the students gave an enchanting presentation of his philosophy of life through dance and emphasized the relevance of the values conveyed by him in the present times. After this, the students were guided to follow the path shown by the architect of the Constitution, Dr. Ambedkar, a noble person. Along with this, Giddha was presented in traditional Punjabi costume on the occasion of Baisakhi. Children were told that Baisakhi is the festival of farmers' happiness. At this time, the Rabi crop is ripe and waving in the fields. School Principal Ms. Archana Singh gave best wishes for the festival.

सुबकियों में करके सफर आया मैं MPS,
घबराहट में खिचे कदम जब आया मैं MPSI
दरवाजे पर गार्ड Uncle ने थपथपाई पीठ मेरी,
लगा कि सांस थम ही गई हो मेरी।
बड़े बड़े गलियारों में
पाया जब साथियों को करते उछल कूद
आई मुस्कराहट चेहरे पर,
देख कई के गर्दन में रही Bottle लटक।
फिर थमे कदम जब घुसा मैं Class में
पाया मेरी teacher को पकड़े मेरा हाथ अपने
एहसास में,
मिले नए नए दोस्त मुझे
मेजों पर रखे रंग बिरंगे bag नए
फिर खुशियों के साथ वापस लौटा मैं MPS से।

MY FAVOURITE HOLIDAY DESTINATION

Goa is my favourite holiday destination in India. Goa is a coastal state in India between Maharashtra and Karnataka. It is the smallest state in the country. Its capital is PANJI.

I visited it along with my family in the summer.

There are so many churches in Goa, but the Church of Our Lady of Hope in Candoli is a beautiful church and worth visiting once.

It is a beautiful place with a lot of crowds, water sports, and nightlife. The food and dance make it a lively place. You can take a long walk on the beach, play around with the waves or relax.

You can take a boat ride out to see Butterfly Island, Monkey Island, and a lot of mischievous dolphins.

I love Goa very much and want to spend all my vacations on the beach.

EXPERIENCE OF NEW CLASS

My experience was so different such as meeting my old friends, searching for my same known and friendly smile. Also, some new faces have also been added to my friend circle. I am also eager to learn a new language French because it gives me a spectrum of knowledge of another culture and customs. Now I feel more confident as I am in a senior class of the school. It gives me a sense to develop my own aptitude and perception towards my surrounding environment.

MY IMAGINATION OF SUCCESS

My imagination of success is different from others, as others want to make their family proud or to gain respect as a sign of success. But in my case, I only want to make money as my success and to make my family's dream come true and to make donations.

As I belong to a middle-class family, I had to sacrifice my dreams of having expensive stuff and going on foreign vacations because we could not afford it. My father always told me whenever I demanded something, "See the poor children, they don't even have a good place to live, but they are happy." And always troll me by saying that money can't buy happiness, but in my opinion, money can buy everything.

That's why my idea of success is to make money.

EXPERIENCE OF NEW CLASS

My experience of the new class was great, but I was a little nervous because we all didn't go to school for the last 2 years, I just met all my teachers and old friends and also the new one. When I greeted them and introduced myself then some doubts entered my mind that they would like me or not. But after some time, I realised that everything was quite normal. Now, I can say proudly that I am a confident teenager who can ask her doubts freely without any speck of self-doubt. I suddenly realised that whatever I was thinking about myself, was irrelevant. Now I am very curious, excited, and confident to go back to my lovely school every day.

Teacher's Corner

Dear Pupils,

In this age, every now and then we keep on reading journals in the newspapers or magazines about the pathetic condition of environment and the threats caused to it by the human race due to its insatiable desire to rule over the nature. And many a times, some eye - opening facts from these articles leave a disrupting effect on our thought process and also scare us of the consequences which our progeny is likely to suffer because of the catastrophic changes nature is undergoing at many ends in the present time. But here the question arises is, how many times has this disruption motivated us to take a stand for the environment?

Most of us come across these frightening facts through some form of media and then, like aliens on the planet, forget about them. We like to go for expensive herbal brands when it comes to beauty products or essentials and do not hesitate to spend many hundreds in the name of "Mama Earth" or any other brand like that. But how often do we really feel concerned about the miseries of our Mama Earth that are also caused by our own community? What is the reason that there's hardly any urge to come out of our comfort zones and do something practically in favour of our mother planet? ...According to my discernment, it is basically a "Lack of connectivity". The reason for our indifferent approach or few concerns is the gap that we've created with our surrounding nature. But this gap, I think, is merely an illusion which does not actually exist anywhere. This is not just my individual opinion but can be proven scientifically. Because it is only nature, with its numerous gifts, that ensures our own existence in this world. We humans are not separate entities from nature but are intrinsically part of the same natural environment. As a result, the only question is how little attention we should pay to the deserving Mother Nature and the surrounding environment. And it is amazingly simpler than we think. Even if we start saving a few drops of water by fixing a leaking tap, it is still an action of showing concern towards the environment. If we don't plant any trees but only determine to take care of the ones already growing in our vicinity, it's again a great help to the environment. A single bucket of water can save a dyeing plant. The only thing required from our side is to broaden the horizons of our thoughts, have an "inclusive approach" and start feeling connected with the environment. So my message to everyone is: Deem yourself to be a part of this boundless nature and contribute your share to add to the multitudinous array of boons granted to us by Mother Nature.

Let me conclude with a few lines extracted from a poem, Little Things by Julia Carney –

*Little deeds of kindness
Little Words of Love
Make our planet happy.
As in Heaven above,*

HAPPINESS

There is no path to happiness to move forward, but happiness is the path. Finding joy is pretty hard to do if you're always running after the next big thing without appreciating where you are and what you have at the present moment.

Every year on March 20th is celebrated as International Happiness Day. This year the theme is to focus upon three basic factors of attaining happiness: 1. Keep Calm: Being cool and calm in every situation is the key to satisfaction and happiness.

Stay Wise: In difficult circumstances, wise steps lead to success.

Be Kind: Be considerate of others' needs, mistakes, and errors.

To be happy with every task or in every situation, we need to remove our own barriers to get rid of hesitation, we need to judge ourselves, and last but not the least, be positive in every situation. Just give your 100% in that moment so that you won't be regretting it in the future.

Success is not the key to happiness; happiness is the key to success. If you love what you are doing, you will be successful.

School life is undoubtedly one of the greatest chapters of my life. It was a learning experience, for sure. For me, this place is nothing short of a blessing that has provided me with priceless joys. School life is all about the excitement of coming back the next day, celebration, assembly, intervals, activities to take part in and many more which can't be elucidated. I appreciate my friends and teachers for always being with us and supporting us. It's time to leave my dear school for good, where I have spent the past six years of my life. And this golden period of my life came to its sudden end on the 2nd of April, which was my last day at school. That day, I returned home with a heavy heart and a lot of memories. It's been a beautiful and unforgettable journey, which will remain in my heart forever. Grateful to be a part of MPS INTERNATIONAL!

GUNJAN MAHESHWARI

Isn't it funny how we all started our school life with a heavy bag on our shoulders and then end the era with a heavy weight on our hearts? It's almost poetic how school becomes a waypoint not just for education but also for newfound memories. School life for me was similar to this poem, except each verse was different from the last. It didn't matter that I wasn't present at the start; I was still given my very special space. Friends that I'll never abandon, mentors that I'll never forget, and lessons that I'll never put aside will, one day, they remain nothing but souvenirs of the past, but they will be cherished every passing moment. As such, I have no regrets about becoming part of this beautiful family. Should the day ever come that we are not together, you all will continue to shine like gold in my memories.

APARAJITA LADDHA

Batch of 22

I have spent the most important years of my life here in MPS international. The years from Std 9th to 12th can be safely quoted as the years that can either break you or make you. And I'm glad that I got to spend these years of my life here which made sure that I am transformed into the best version of myself before I leave here. I entered the premises of MPS International with hope in my heart, dreams in my eyes, and some flaws too. But I am leaving from here with hopes fulfilled, assurance of having the capability to make all those things that I've dreamt of; and even those which I haven't yet ; come true and becoming a person that my loved ones and I am proud of. Out of all the places I've lived and all the schools I've gone to, MPS International does hold a very special place in my heart and in my life as a whole.

MPS really made the saying "School Is the second home" come true for me. And all the credence for this goes to my teachers here. I found a guide, a supporter, a second mother and an ideal to be rightly followed in my teachers. They helped inculcate some indispensable skills in me like patience, understanding, managing and handling things better which are cardinal to lead a decorous life and of course made me capable academically to achieve all that I seek in my future professionally. My gratitude towards my teachers, Principal ma'am and MPS International as whole is just as much as the sun in the whole universe. I hope I have been a student competent enough to be called as one of the MP Sites. And as a payback, I promise to do well for myself as well as for the society in whatever bit I can and try and make you all proud with all that I do with my life from now on. I'll forever feel blessed to have had an opportunity of being a part of the MPS family who has shaped me personally as well as professionally.

Thank you so much for all the love and lessons; both of which I'll carry with me everywhere I go.

DIVYA KABRA

Batch of 22

I joined this school 6 years ago, quiet and afraid. Changes were never my strong suit, so to come into a new environment and make my own place there seemed like a high mountain to climb. Slowly and gradually, this school accepted me like one of their own and soon enough this place felt like home. The warmth of the teachers and my peers around was beautiful. My time here became evermore with the presence of some beautiful teachers and mentors. Ms. Deepshikha Ghai, who has always been there to show me the right way and have always helped me grow into the best version of myself. Her guidance and care as teacher and mother will always be cherished. All those who were more like friends than teachers hold a special place in my heart. My charming friends who made everyday more fun and frolic. A couple of years ago, if someone would have asked me if I was happy where I was, my response would have been a 'no'. But, today, looking back at all the time I have spent here, it has all been worth it because I can say proudly today, that I am happy and content with my journey here at MPS International.

Happy Parents

School is what my child refers to as her second home, and it is because of the comfort it brings whenever she is at that place. She has been studying here for seven years, and the environment in the school completely focuses on my child's growth, and the teachers are so loving and helpful. Everything that is taught is not only about academics but also about personal growth. Everything about the school is marvelous; the management, the authorities, the helpers, the staff, the guards. I am really blessed that my child is a part of the MPS INTERNATIONAL school family.

Hello,

My name is Rohini Gaur, and I am the mother of Khwahish Gaur of class IX-G and Nakshtra Gaur of class VI-A. I've always had faith in the MPS International School instructors, and they've never disappointed me. I am overjoyed that my daughter and son are attending a school where they will have great interaction with someone who will pay attention to them and assist them with their issues. My children have frequently praised the school. Not only the teachers, but also the office staff are really kind and concerned about the students.
