FROM THE DESK OF

Hon. Secretary Sir

True leadership is not about directing others; it is about directing oneself. A leader is someone who understands that actions are observed even when words are not spoken. In classrooms, corridors, and playgrounds, leadership reveals itself in everyday choices—standing up for fairness, including those who are left out, and accepting mistakes without shifting blame.

Radhamohan Kacholia (CA)

In a school environment, leadership must be learned before it is assigned because authority without empathy only creates fear. The most impactful student leaders are not those who command attention, but those who earn it through consistency, discipline, and humility. They lead by example, not by instruction.

In a world that rewards quick opinions, the ability to pause, reflect, and consider different perspectives is a rare skill. Most importantly, leadership is not about perfection. It is about accountability.

As an institution, our aim is not merely to produce high achievers, but grounded leaders. When students learn to lead with conscience as well as confidence, education fulfils one of its most fundamental roles.

FROM THE DESK OF

Revered Principal Madam

Exams can feel like a storm—rushing thoughts, ticking clocks, and endless pages to revise. It is natural to feel anxious, to question whether you have done enough, or whether your preparation will hold up. Yet, amid this whirlwind, one quality becomes more important than any syllabus: self-belief.

Manju Sharma

Self-belief is not blind optimism. It is the quiet assurance that the effort you have invested, the habits you have built, and the understanding you have nurtured are all real, tangible foundations.

It is the ability to look at a challenging question and say, “I can work through this.” That mindset turns anxiety into focus and doubt into deliberate action.

Anxiety may be loud, but your inner confidence can be louder. By focusing on preparation rather than comparison, on understanding rather than perfection, and on effort rather than fear, you carry forward more than marks—you carry the assurance that you are equipped for challenges—both in exams and beyond.

In the end, exams are temporary, but the habit of believing in yourself is permanent. Trust it, nurture it, and let it guide you calmly through every test, every question, and every uncertainty.

FROM THE DESK OF

Revered Primary Incharge Madam

A school is often judged by what can be counted—results, ranks, trophies, and numbers neatly arranged in columns. Yet the true measure of an institution lies far beyond what can be quantified.

Within these walls, education has never been limited to the transfer of information. Facts and formulas are taught, certainly—but more importantly, students should learn how to think independently, how to question with respect, and how to hold responsibility alongside ambition. Learning cannot be rushed.

Every classroom is a space where curiosity is encouraged, where mistakes are treated as part of growth, and where effort is valued as much as the outcome. This balance—between discipline and freedom, —is what gives education its meaning.

As this magazine captures moments, milestones, and memories, it also reflects something quieter yet more powerful: the confidence students develop in their own abilities. Long after textbooks are closed and examinations are over, the noise fades but this confidence remains.

The true success of a school is seen not only in what its students achieve, but in who they become. That is the real measure—steady, purposeful, and deeply meaningful.

परीक्षा, सफलता और सही दृष्टि

परीक्षा का नाम सुनते ही सबसे पहले जो शब्द हमारे मन में आता है, वह है - सफलता और साथ ही एक प्रश्न भी- "इस परीक्षा का परिणाम क्या होगा?" यहीं से शुरू होता है समस्याओं का झंझट, क्योंकि धीरे-धीरे हमारा पूरा ध्यान कार्य से हटकर परिणाम पर टिक जाता है। जब हमारी दृष्टि केवल परिणाम पर अटक जाती है, तब हम न तो पूरे मन से पढ़ पाते हैं, न पूरा फोकस बना पाते हैं और न ही अपना सर्वश्रेष्ठ दे पाते हैं।

आपने वह प्रसिद्ध उदाहरण अवश्य पढ़ा होगा-
गुरु द्रोणाचार्य ने अपने शिष्यों से मछली की आँख पर निशाना लगाने को कहा।

सबने आसपास की चीजें देखीं- पेड़, पानी, आकाश-लेकिन अर्जुन ने कहा, "मुझे केवल मछली की आँख दिख रही है।" और वही सही निशाना लगा सके।

इससे स्पष्ट है कि सफलता का रहस्य भी ध्यान में ही छिपा है।

"जहाँ ध्यान, वहाँ परिणाम।"

जब हमारा ध्यान सौ प्रतिशत अपने कार्य पर होता है, तो परिणाम भी वैसा ही मिलता है, जैसा हम चाहते हैं।

इसीलिए हमारे प्रिय ग्रंथ भगवद् गीता में भगवान श्रीकृष्ण कहते हैं-

"कर्मण्येवाधिकारस्ते मा फलेषु कदाचन।"

(तुम्हारा अधिकार केवल कर्म करने में है, फल की चिंता मत करो।) मनोविज्ञान (Psychology) भी यही कहता है-

जिस बात पर हम ध्यान केंद्रित करते हैं, उसी दिशा में हमारा परिणाम बनता है। याद रखिए ब्रह्माण्ड हमारे द्वारा भेजी जा रही ऊर्जा (एनर्जी) को ही कई गुणा बढ़ा कर लौटाता है।

यदि हम कार्य छोड़कर केवल परिणाम की चिंता करेंगे, तो सफलता में कहीं-न-कहीं कमी रह ही जाएगी।

बच्चों! अब आपकी परीक्षाएँ निकट हैं। बच्चों! अब आपकी परीक्षाएँ निकट हैं।

साल भर की मेहनत का परिणाम आपके सामने आने वाला है।

इसलिए इस समय मेहनत पर पूरा ध्यान दें (फोकस करें), परिणाम की चिंता पर नहीं। कुछ सरल लेकिन प्रभावी बातें अपनाकर आप कम समय में बेहतर तैयारी कर सकते हैं-

• नियमित दिनचर्या बनाएँ।

• रोज़ थोड़ा-थोड़ा पढ़ें, लेकिन लगातार पढ़ें।

• विषय को छोटे छोटे बिंदुओं (बुलेट पॉइंट्स, फ्लोचार्ट या माइंड मैप) बनाकर लिखित अभ्यास करें।

• मुख्य उत्तर (की आंसर) को बार बार लिखें।

• समय सारणी (टाइम-टेबल) के अनुसार पाठ्यक्रम (सिलेबस) को बाँटकर पढ़ाई करें। "बूंद-बूंद से सागर भरता है।"

• स्वास्थ्य का विशेष ध्यान रखें।

• पौष्टिक भोजन करें।

• अधिक मसालेदार और जंक फूड से बचें, क्योंकि इससे आलस और अस्वस्थता आती है।

• मोबाइल से दूरी बनाएँ।

• पढ़ते समय मोबाइल फोन दूर रखें, ताकि ध्यान भंग (कोई डिस्ट्रैक्शन) न हो।

• पढ़ाई के समय को तीन भागों में बाँटें पढ़ाई के समय को तीन भागों में बाँटें

Best Time - कठिन विषय पढ़ें

Regular Time - सामान्य विषय पढ़ें

Relax Time - खेल, हल्की गतिविधि (एक्टिविटी) संगीत सुनना, टहलना, परिवार के साथ समय या थोड़ा विश्राम।

• व्यायाम, योग और ध्यान अवश्य करें।

व्यायाम (हल्की एक्सरसाइज़) और योग को दिनचर्या में ज़रूर शामिल करें।

• परीक्षा के समय से पहले दोहरान (रिवीजन) पूरा करें।

• परीक्षा के दिनों में दोबारा दोहरान (रिवीजन) करें, नया पढ़ने का दबाव (प्रेउत्तर लिख-लिखकर अभ्यास करें ताकि वर्तनी (स्पेलिंग) और प्रस्तुति में गलती न हो।

• परीक्षा के लिए आवश्यक सामान पहले से तैयार रखें।

• परीक्षा से एक दिन पहले सभी ज़रूरी चीजें एक जगह रख लें।

• देर रात तक पढ़ने के बजाय सुबह का समय अधिक प्रभावी होता है।

परीक्षा के दिन का मंत्र

जब आप परीक्षा देने घर से निकलें -

माता-पिता और बड़ों को प्रणाम करें।

ईश्वर को स्मरण करें।

पूरे विश्वास के साथ परीक्षा दें।

"विश्वास रखें स्वयं पर, मेहनत कभी बेकार नहीं जाती।"

याद रखिए-

परिणाम अपने आप सुधर जाएगा

बस आपको अपने कर्म और ध्यान को सही दिशा देनी है।

इन पंक्तियों को स्मरण रखें।

"असफलता एक चुनौती है

स्वीकार करें

क्या कमी रह गई देखो और सुधार करो।

जब तक न सफल हो नींद चैन को त्यागो तुम

संघर्ष का मैदान छोड़ मत भागो तुम

कुछ किए बिना ही जय जयकार नहीं होती कोशिश करनेवालों की कभी हार नहीं होती।"

Broken yet beautiful

People ask me why I love sunsets As they mean everything has an end,
But it tells that whatever happens
all day, A beautiful end can help it mend.

I love how the lonely clouds strand
in the sky, distorted, And I realise that's the most glorious thing I spotted.

It is beautiful as the weeping cloud pour the raindrops, quite delicate to embrace, Yer broken but still adds
to the nature its grace!

Broken doesn't mean it is the end, If its for things or people As they're still left with the pieces, Though broken, much more beautiful

Waiting Without Waiting

A boy, smiling, stands there every day, waiting for someone, but that someone never arrives.

Chilling in the winter, sunny in the summer, he just stands there, no matter what the conditions are,
waiting and smiling.

He never complains about anything
and never gets angry.

He just waits for that someone to arrive.

People passing by ask, "For whom are you waiting?"

He just smiles and says, "I am waiting for someone special."

You can't see it.

This thing is not about waiting for someone or any person.

This thing is about focusing on your
own goals and achievements,
irrespective of what people say.
